PETITION TO MAKE SPECIAL UNDER 37 CFR § 1.102(d)

Assistant Commissioner for Patents
Washington, D.C. 20231

December 17, 2001

Sir:

Applicants petition to make the above-identified application special under the provisions of 37 CFR § 1.102(d). In order to make an application special to thereby warrant its expedited consideration in the Office, the following requirements must be satisfied:

- (1) A petition requesting the Office to make the application special must be filed.
- (2) The petition fee required under 37 CFR § 1.17(h) must be paid.
- (3) The application must relate to one of the types of inventions set forth in MPEP § 708.02, or alternatively one of the situations recognized in this section of the Manual must apply.

Applicants submit that the filing of this paper and the attached check satisfy the first two requirements. Applicants respectfully submit that the third requirement is also satisfied.

Under MPEP § 708.02, Section XI, a petition to make special is proper if the application relates to an invention for countering terrorism. The above-identified application discloses and claims an invention of this type. More specifically, in the Background of the Invention section the application observes that, especially of late, the mail has been used as a weapon of terrorism by both domestic and foreign enemies. For example, terrorists have sent biological pathogens in letters to unwitting recipients. This has resulted in the infection of not only the recipients but also mail personnel who handled the letters. This contamination arose either through direct contact with the letters or through cross-contamination resulting from the pathogens becoming airborne. Under the current practices in both public and private mail rooms, security measures to protect against infection through cross-contamination is lacking at best.

The invention claimed and disclosed in the above-identified application solves this problem. In one embodiment of the invention, a sealed mail sorting room is provided with an internal sorting table and a vacuum unit. The vacuum unit suctions air through an air inlet to create a downwardly directed flow of air which wipes airborne contaminants into a filter, which may be a HEPA filter removes particles on the order of 0.3 microns or larger. A mail cleaning device may also be located in the sorting room to clean the mail before sorting. This cleaning device creates its own separate high-velocity air flow for removing contaminants from individual pieces of mail. The invention may be considered to be an indispensable tool in protecting mail room workers and recipients from infection due to cross-contamination effects.

Applicants respectfully submit that the requirements of MPEP § 708.02 have been satisfied, and that therefore making the above-identified application special under 37 CFR § 1.102(d) is proper.

To the extent necessary, Applicants petition for an extension of time under 37 CFR § 1.136. Please charge any shortage in fees due in connection with this application, including extension of time fees, to Deposit Account No. 50-1165 (Attorney Docket No: T3392-000000) and please credit any excess fees to the same Deposit Account.

Respectfully submitted,
